

Abstract

A Centrifuge for the separation and/or treatment of cells in a substantially annular or partially annular separation bag having a rotor with rotor shaft with a hollow upper portion defining a central compartment and a rotor bowl for the separation bag and a container system including the separation bag for use therewith.